

Assignment #3

ISBA 2420
winter 2025

Create a Sinatra web application that will provide the following flow.

On the left, is your web application. On the right, you start by connecting to the web application using "localhost:4567". Then web application return a welcome page. From the welcome page, you can click on "about my site" or "login". Each click will send different request and your web application will return different pages. Rest of the flow are self explanatory.

Create your directory for this like this:

